Beautiful Community, Mountains and Sea

Port Townsend is located on the Olympic Peninsula just two hours from Seattle. The city's 9,500 residents and over a million visitors a year enjoy its historic seaport character mixed with a vibrant creative culture.

What's it like working here?

The department handles approximately 10,000 calls for service each year. Between incidents, officers enjoy time to pursue special projects, manage professional growth, and interact with residents, business owners and visitors. The department's 15 commissioned officers and 4 support staff members maintain strong partnerships with area law enforcement agencies, fire departments, hospital staff, and mental health officials.
